Growth, Perseverance, Positivity, Achievement Newsletter

Friday 26th September 2025

Ms Barnard
Headteacher

Welcome to another packed edition of the school newsletter. We have been delighted to welcome back Neil the coach for JOLF over the past two weeks. The children have been continuing to develop their skills and even our new Reception children have had their first JOLF experience too. We are proud of the initiative ways in which we use our Sport Premium money and hope that by exposing children to a range of different sporting experiences they become interested in being active for life.

We have continued to focus on all our new routines and structures over the past two weeks and embedding our wonderful new behaviour curriculum.

To support our school community and enhance the children's personal development, our Year 5 and 6 pupils have been applying for a range of different roles within the school. I know that the selection process was tough, with so many children keen to work in different areas of our school. We love how this builds personal responsibility within the children and hopefully will be seeing even more of this when we have our School Council elections after half term.

Have a wonderful weekend!

This week in Reception.....

We have been learning about ourselves and our families. We have absolutely loved looking at pictures of us as babies and comparing to us now and how we have changed. We enjoyed talking about our families and the people that are special to us. The children have also drawn some fantastic self-portraits, we have some artists in the making!

For maths we have been learning about the concepts of longer and shorter and taller and shorter. The children have made some excellent comparisons this week.

Our focus texts this week:.....

Times Table Rockstars
